About Our Services

Hunter Programs Education Services has extensive experience providing a wide variety of educational services and working directly with schools and school districts. This sets us apart from other tutoring and test prep companies and gives us the edge to provide the highest level of tutoring and test preparation services possible.

With comprehensive experience in the educational field, our staff understands different learning styles and school expectations. We have the right tutoring teams and tools necessary to enable students to achieve important long-term goals. It is our guarantee to help students move ahead, avoid mistakes before they happen, or fix mistakes before they are irreversible.

Students are carefully matched with tutors according to individual student needs and tutor qualifications. Our knowledgeable and experienced tutors can help all students, from the honors student who needs troubleshooting before AP exams, to the learning disabled student who is struggling with low grades.
